Moritz Burkle

MSc in Computer Science

Year of graduation: 2022

Whilst studying his Msc in Computer Science at Swansea University, Moritz, originally from the United States, engaged with a range of SEA support services; including completing the Career Development Course and attending one-to-one appointments with a Careers Consultant.

The support available at SEA helped Moritz plan for his career after completing his master's degree, develop his CV and interview skills before going on to secure his dream job.

On engaging with the support available at SEA, Moritz said:

After the graduation celebrations, there was a sudden moment of "oh, now what?, where do I go from here?"

The SEA team was super helpful, understanding, and patient. They took a very methodological approach to building up my job search and CV. I certainly credit their help in finding my dream job as an AI engineer at a software company called Verisk.
